

OUR TEAM

JASMINE ARELLANO-NAJERA, M.S.

Professional Learning Specialist

BIOGRAPHY

"Every student should have access to a data-driven school counseling program that supports their needs. Our profession is so unique because we support the whole child through our three domains, and therefore are in the position to ensure that ALL students are successful. In order to truly support all of our students, we have to use data to drive our school counseling program. By using data, we ensure that our students' needs are being met and ultimately support their success. In this way, school counselors are important agents of change for our students and their families."

Jasmine is a passionate and dedicated school counselor who advocates for access to data-driven comprehensive school counseling programs for all students across her district. Jasmine has been an elementary school counselor and middle school counselor where she was a 2021 recipient of the Recognized ASCA Model Program (RAMP), a national award for her data-driven comprehensive school counseling program at the middle school level.

She currently serves as a district school counselor where she supports the development of a districtwide K-12 data-driven comprehensive school counseling program and individually supports sites who wish to apply for RAMP in Pomona Unified School District. She has also been contracted with Riverside County of Ed and Los Angeles County of Ed to support the development and delivery of trainings for school counselors across those counties. Jasmine is a part-time faculty at University of La Verne teaching school counseling graduate students.

PROFESSIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Current district school counselor with experience at elementary and middle school levels
- Adjunct faculty at University of La Verne
- 2021 Recognized ASCA Model Program recipient
- ASCA RAMP Reviewer
- 2020-21 California Association of School Counselors (CASC) Emerging Leader

FUN FACTS

- Jasmine loves to craft and create different projects on her Cricut machine.
- One of Jasmine's favorite ways to exercise is boxing.
- Jasmine loves to plan parties and decorate.

Email

jarellanonajera03@gmail.com

Twitter

@SCounselorJazzy