BIOGRAPHY

"Students have great potential for developing the social, emotional, and behavioral skills they need to succeed in their academic careers and lives. With data-driven, research-based counseling programs, I have seen my students grow greatly within a positive and nurturing school climate that my team and I foster. I look forward to helping more practitioners find joy in seeing students flourish."

Jenni Briggs is a school counselor from Cobb County, Georgia. She began her career in education, teaching K-5 Art for eleven years. Her passion for helping young students grow moved her to pursue her Masters and Educational Specialist Degrees in School Counseling, resulting in 21 years of experience working to develop positive, productive relationships with students, families, and the community. Jenni is committed to teaching other professionals how to provide a comprehensive, data-driven, developmental school counseling program that addresses the academic, career, and social/emotional development of all students while advocating for a safe and respectful environment that promotes equity and success for every student.

PROFESSIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Led her team in earning the RAMP designation three times, with one School of Distinction status.

- Awarded the Cobb County Elementary School Counselor of the Year, 2004.
- Honored as the Georgia School Counselor Association, Region 3 Elementary School Counselor of the Year, 2005.

TESTIMONIALS

"Jenni Briggs is an amazing school counselor and leader, advocating for students' academic, social, emotional, and behavioral growth within all levels of a Multi-Tiered System of Supports."

-M.J. Thompson, School Psychologist, Clark County School District, NV

"Jenni Briggs has significant experience with the ASCA Comprehensive Model and the RAMP application process. I have had the benefit of working alongside her as we have completed the RAMP process three times and earned School of Distinction. I gained an abundance of knowledge on how a data-driven program produces significant results for student success. Her expertise on data digs, formulating goals, and implementing interventions to produce positive results is extraordinary. With Mrs. Briggs in a coaching role, so many school counselors will be change agents for their students."

-Michelle Stevens, School Counselor, Cobb County School District, GA
